

Molly McNestry – Pupil Barrister

Molly commenced a common law pupillage in October 2022 under the supervision of Elizabeth Lugg.

In between completion of the Bar Course and obtaining pupillage, Molly worked as a Mental Health Advocate, providing advocacy support to vulnerable adults under the Deprivation of Liberty Safeguards (DOLs). She later worked as a County Court Advocate, representing clients in a number of civil matters and appearing in front of both District and High Court judges across the country.

Under the supervision of Elizabeth Lugg, Molly has observed a number of public and private family law matters including complex fact-finding hearings involving non-accidental injury and factitious or induced illness.

Molly is currently accepting instructions in the areas of Family, Civil, Court of Protection and Criminal Law.
